Hanging baskets are inexpensive but they can do a lot to a home or garden. Just think, they can be hung on proches, near entrances, under arbors, hung from trees, posts, breezeways and carports or even walls or fences. In fact, they may be used anywhere plants will grow and wherever one's imagination can fit them into the garden scene.

Baskets come made from wire, wooden slats and molded plastic, The latter is probably the most useful. Half-round baskets are available to use on walls or other flat surfaces.

Maintaining an adequate moisture supply is the biggest problem. By lining the basket with black polyethelene moisture retention is improved.

A suitable soil mix is 2parts soil, 1 part peat moss and 1 part perlite.

Remember to select shade loving plants for hangin g in shady areas and sun loving plants for bright sunny areas.
